TOPBUXUS

After fighting Box Blight for many years without a consistent solution, Topbuxus was developed by the largest grower of Buxus plants in Europe. It is both a preventative and a cure to the disease, and is sprayed onto the plant at the three main growing stages throughout the year. In tests carried out in New Zealand, after following specific application rates, a marked improvement in the condition of the treated Buxus plant was observed over a short period of time. Bioplantol is a German company founded by chemist Konrad Würthle a pioneer and leading manufacturer of homoeopathic plant strengthening agents.

Bioplantol provides all vital elements homoeopathically for regenerating plants. It strengthens plants and enhances their vitality by activating the soil micro-flora, lifting blockages in plants and therefore improving sap flow. Through a stronger root growth, the plant can absorb nutrients more easily and distribute them to cell development. The result is a healthy plant, which is more resistant to diseases and pests.

All products comply with the EC Organic Farming Regulations (EC) 834/2007 and 889/2008 and are approved for organic production. The products are listed with FIBL (Research Institute of Organic Agriculture) catalogue of approved farm inputs.

Bioplantol products are used in all plant cultures and do not have any negative side effects on humans, beneficial organisms, and the ecosystem.

Terracottem is the result of a joint venture between the University of Ghent in Belgium and the World Health Organisation to combat desert encroachment in Sahelian countries. It was found that when certain hydro absorbent, nutritive and root growth stimulating components were mixed together, a superior soil conditioning compound which produced dramatic and swift results was achieved. Terracottem significantly improves the capacity for soil to retain and provide water and nutrients and it promotes biomass production and plant growth. The combination of ingredients works effectively on all soil types and conditions on a wide variety of indigenous trees, grasses, vegetables, and herbs. Unlike other conventional 12 volt systems, Quik Spray units are mechanically driven reels so you will never burn out the motor. Testimonials

“ HEB Construction has recently started purchasing off the guys at LGS. Their broad array of products and their willingness to go the extra mile to satisfy the needs of the customer is always much appreciated. We look forward to working further with Landscape and Grower Supplies in the future. ”

Hayden Sefonte

Project Manager
HEB Construction

“ I am an independent landscaper in Auckland and have been buying quality professional tools and products from LGS over the years. I find it hard to get good service and sound advice from companies in Auckland that offers expertise in my industry. LGS offers a great deal of knowledge, particularly with tricky products like chemicals and fertilisers where I might not know all the benefits of the product. As a result, I can depend on providing the right solution for my customers. ”

Gordon Mundy

Landscaper
Above Ground Landscaping

“ Our family has been growing spring onions in Manukau for 15 years and has been working with Landscape and Grower Supplies over this time. Over the years I have bought products from other retailers in Auckland, however the service and expertise displayed by LGS has always been fast and efficient. Their knowledge and advise is beyond other outlets. I would recommend LGS over others in the industry for their service and quality of products. ”

Gilbert Wong

Vegetable Grower
Manukau City

“ Over many years my company has been working with LGS buying products and seeking advice from the staff so that our plants are the best that they can be to sell to our customers. I have always found LGS have gone the extra mile to have products available and to source goods that may be hard to find. They personalise the service in a way that I feel individually catered for which I can rely upon. ”
